Sustain-ABLY:

Global Goals

The UN SDGs help us whether individual, family, community, organisation or nation to visualise not only the scale of our problems but more importantly how to take focused action. The solutions are there in this simple image.

Our strong model of sustainability helps us to visualise how to put these UN SDGs into action.

Spend some time watching the video about the Global Goals on the Pure Spaces website. Explore the resources linked below as well.

Then sort the 17 SDGs into the 3 areas of the strong model of sustainability opposite. Which goals are focused on environment, which are focused on society and which on economy? Add the goal number to the appropriate circle.

Hint: there are 4 for environment, 8 for society, 4 for economy and 1 stands alone.

Now reflect on how this visualisation helps you to decide where your priorities lie in supporting our global push towards #togetherforthegoals #2030

What actions can you and yours take for the Global Goals today?
